2. User Feedback

During and after the development of Antennas VCE first version, completed at 31 December 2004, great attention was devoted at collecting and reviewing feedback received from Antennas VCE users.

The suggestions, issue reports and desiderata collected as user feedback have been reviewed and a list of modifications, additions and improvements to be integrated in Antennas VCE second version was created from them.

This document contains and briefly explains the user feedback received and the corresponding actions planned on Antennas VCE second version.

2.1. Feedback Details

The following table lists for each Antennas VCE module the received feedback and the corresponding planned actions. In many cases the feedback itself is already a description of a possible modification, so the corresponding action is usually either to accept and apply it, or to reject and ignore it (explaining the reason). In the other cases, the planned action is described more in detail.

In the table (1), each topic is described by mean the following six attributes (organised in six columns):

- 1) the Module to which the feedback relates
- 2) the feedback description
- 3) the status (Open, In progress, Closed)
- 4) the issuer
- 5) the history

This would complicate noticeably the Communication module and for technical reason would still be limited to attaching a single file. It is also not suitable for the large files typically exchanged by Antennas VCE users due to size limits of most e-mail servers. It is recommended instead to upload the file(s) in the File Sharing and only put a link to the file(s) in the e-mail. 31/04/2005
